Human Capital Management solutions of ATC get recognized in Sales Excellence Awards

Athens Technology Center (ATC) congratulates WIND Hellas for its Sales Excellence Awards in Training & Development for both Sales Management and Sales forces.

The awards are related to the synchronous and asynchronous e-learning services of the Commercial Training Division provided by WIND to its retail national network of Wind Stores with focus to all sales advisors.

This was made possible through the Saba Cloud platform provided by ATC to WIND, along with the platform's customization and custom e-learning courses. These awards reaffirm once again WIND's strategic commitment to ongoing training and evolving staff skills to ensure the best customer experience.
